Dying Matters Awareness Week

Dying Matters Awareness Week, from Hospice UK, will take place from 6 - 12 May 2024. Every year, people around the UK use Dying Matters Awareness Week as a moment to encourage all communities to get talking in whatever way, shape or form works for them.

This year's theme, 'The way we talk about Dying Matters', focuses on the language that we use, and conversations we have, around death and dying – specifically between healthcare professionals and patients, their carers and their families.

Honest, timely conversations about death and dying are essential to good end of life care. Yet all too often barriers, including lack of confidence, taboos around discussing death, and confusion about who should be having these conversations mean patients, carers and families may not understand what is happening, or get all the information and support they need.

Hospice UK makes a huge impact in supporting hospice care across the United Kingdom every year, from raising awareness, fundraising, through to providing specialist clinical knowledge, grants, and expertise. The brilliant people who work in their 200+ hospices around the UK are experts in death, dying, and end of life care.

This Dying Matters Awareness Week, they're helping communities around the UK to come together to talk about having those end of life conversations, whether with their healthcare professionals – or families, friends and colleagues.

Because the way we talk about Dying Matters.

Mental Health Awareness Week

Mental Health Awareness Week 2024 will take place from 13 to 19 May, on the theme of "Movement: Moving more for our mental health".

Since 1949, the Mental Health Foundation has been leading the UK in building good mental health. Together, we can help everyone have better mental health.

Poor mental health is not inevitable and the Mental Health Foundation believe that everyone deserves good mental health: building a society where everybody can thrive.

They're challenging the way things are done so that no-one living in the UK is deprived of the opportunity for good mental health because of who they are, the community they come from or where they live.

Movement is important for our mental health. But so many of us struggle to move enough. There are many different reasons for this, so this Mental Health Awareness Week the aim is to help people to find moments for movement in their daily routines. Going for a walk in your neighbourhood, putting on your favourite music and dancing around the living room, chair exercises when you're watching television – it all counts!

Dementia Action Week

Dementia Action Week is Alzheimer's Society annual campaign that brings people together from across the country under a unified theme to take action on dementia. This year, Dementia Action Week will run from 13-19 May 2024.

Dementia is caused by different diseases that damage the brain. The symptoms get worse over time and include:

- memory loss
- confusion and needing help with daily tasks
- problems with language and understanding
- changes in behaviour.

Dementia is progressive, which means symptoms may be relatively mild at first, but they get worse over time. There are many types of dementia but Alzheimer's disease is the most common. The next most common is vascular dementia.

Dementia is not a natural part of aging. It is caused when a disease damages nerve cells in the brain. Nerve cells carry messages between different parts of the brain, and to other parts of the body. As more nerve cells are damaged, the brain becomes less able to work properly.

Dementia can be caused by many different diseases. These diseases affect the brain in different ways, resulting in different types of dementia.

Maintenance Work at Hornsey Library

A section of Hornsey Library will remain closed while maintenance works are undertaken by Haringey Council. During this time, the adults' section will not be open and public computer/PC access will be extremely limited. Items in the adults' section can still be reserved online as normal. If you'd like to use an alternative library, Highgate and Stroud Green & Harringay Libraries are both located in the west of the borough and will be open during this period, or why not make use of our extensive digital library? We apologise for the disruption and inconvenience this is likely to cause our residents in the area.
