Design & Technology: Use of Every Day Materials

In DT we are learning about snacks that can be eaten at the seaside. Research and think about all the seaside snacks that you have eaten or would like to try. Create a 3D model of a picnic basket, packed with some of those delicious seaside snacks. Don't forget to label the items in the basket.

Design & Technology: Perfect Pizzas

In D&T we will be designing different types of food products. Design a poster advertising a balanced healthy pizza. You could even make your pizza for your family to test.

Geography: Local Area

In Geography, we have been learning about human settlements; this means places where humans live together. Create a 3D model of either a city, town or village outlining the key features of both the human and physical features.
