Geography: Terrific Tourists

Why is tourism important? Why might people want to be tourists in London? Research the main tourist attractions in London and make a mini guidebook to help people who are visiting. You could add to your research by finding out which tourist attractions in London and the UK make the most money each year.

Science: Stupendous Sound

In our science lessons we'll be investigating sound and developing our understanding of 'pitch' and 'vibration'. You could impress us with a song that you've written and can perform, or you could create your own musical instrument with an unusual sound. We can't wait to hear your amazing creations!

English: Wonderful Writers

Now is your chance to impress us with your writing talents. Use one of the story structures we've learnt such as a 'Tale Of Fear' or a 'Wishing Tale' to write your own story. Or you could combine your non fiction skills with the Geography project to show us your non fiction knowledge such as how to use bullet points in your tourist guide. Don't forget to use your very best joined handwriting.
