Electrical circuits

In science we are learning about how circuits can be changed. Can you make a model with a circuit that changes. For example the brightness of the bulb, using switches or buzzers. Be creative with your model. For example make a room with a light switch, make a character that has glowing eyes (where you can dim the light bulbs), make disco lights by changing the colour of the bulbs.

California

In Geography we are learning about the California. Make a model representation of the Golden Gate Bridge or a written project about the state and how it has been transformed so that people can live in this environment.

Make your own webpage:

Go to <https://sites.google.com/> and make your own website about a topic you've learnt in school or a suitable topic of your own interest. In order to present it in assembly make a poster about all the pages of your website and show it off.
